Changes are taking place in Africa

Dr. Sheila Bassoppo-Moyo
Chair, IIAS Board of Trustees

The International Institute for African Scholars has been drawn to the fast-moving changes that are sweeping across Africa. The Chairperson of the IIAS Board of Trustees, Dr. Sheila Bassoppo-Moyo is keenly following the trends. She expresses optimism and called on well-meaning and patriotic Africans to re-commit to African growth and development.

Are Africa's Friends Coming or Going?

Dr. Peter W. Sherrill (Managing Director, IIAS).

The Managing Director of the African Rights in New York continues to wonder if Africa has more friends or enemies now. The political climate seems to be best likened to a wind whose exact direction is not quite discernible except with in-depth consideration of multiple factors. He is keeping his fingers crossed, especially regarding who are Africa's friends or enemies, and hoping that all stakeholders give themselves out for proper identification. African has come a long way, and is expected to consolidate her gains for the long haul.

WELCOME TO 2023!!!

Dr. Maxine Afidegbon, the Vice President of the International Institute for African Scholars, welcomes all into 2023. Optimism greets 2023 in the territories of the International Institute for African Scholars. Diverse events took place leading up to the defining moment that 2023 promises to be. The different IAS Divisions are cranked up. He urges all IAS members to pay attention to what matters to Africa, what is happening to Africa, and has to be done for Africa. Dr. Afidegbon welcomes ideas to move Africa forward.

ONE AFRICA

Dr. Amiracle Clarke thanks all members for the efforts they made during the year 2022 and urges everyone to increase participation to make 2023 even a better year for Africa and Africans.

AFRICANIZATION ACCREDITATION COUNCIL

The Africanization Accreditation Council is positioned to provide accreditation to educational institutions across Africa. The three-pronged thrust includes:

1. Equip all students with entrepreneurial, economic/technical/commercial skills.
2. Teach all students in their national languages and local dialects.
3. Orientations in nationalism, patriotism, ethics, and practical civics at all levels.

IAS PRESIDENT KICKS OFF 2023 ACTIVITIES

The president of the International Institute for African Scholars, Professor Frederick Nwosu, kicked off the year 2023 in three consecutive meetings. He used these meetings to re-energize the Institute in a make up of sub-committees such as Divisions and Departments. Some of them are the African Scholars Digest in Raleigh, North Carolina; African Rights Corporation in New York; African Orientation Council in Accra, Ghana; African Scholars Health Organization in Abuja, Nigeria; African People's Court in Abuja, Nigeria; IAS Speakers Bureau; IAS Exchange; IAS Projects (Agriculture, Value Chain Initiatives, Project Monitoring Program, The Girl Child Advocacy).

The Institute collaborates with external entities such as the Center for Academic Research and Educational Sustainability, Journal of Functional Education, Global Peace Missions, Inc., Carecon International Group, Emmanuel University, VARD-AFRICA, Africanization Accreditation Council, Scholar Book-Writing Project.

IAS is a United States North Carolina based non-profit organization with 501(c)3 tax-exempt status. It operates from Fayetteville, NC and Raleigh, NC. It has a 17-member Board of Directors and five Deputy Directors. The Africa Headquarters are located in Accra, Ghana in the care of the Headquarters Director, Dr. Geraldine Abiodun.

The Institute had its 2023 Conference on Charlotte, North Carolina, October 2022. The Conference Planning Committee was chaired by Dr. Cherylene Cook. The Conference was prepared and chaired by Professor Veronica Robinson. The Institute executed multiple book-writing projects. The project was coordinated by Dr. Edward Akpan, the Director of Research. 2023 Divisional and Departmental Meetings are also awaited.

The African Rights Corporation in New York is committed to the wellbeing of Africans. Its four pillars are and its teaming masses most of whom are disenfranchised. Directing committees:

- (1) Racial populations are already feeling the presence of partnering agencies.
- (2) Women in suburban areas are being empowered to work with their hands.
- (3) Entrepreneurship Center is deployed to equip youths to meet everyday service demands.
- (4) Community awareness and activism is in top gear awaiting all and sundry.
- (5) Feasibility studies are continuous albeit meticulously to circumvent local affairs.

Re-energizing of Africa's status being planned to return Africa to its former glory.

LEADERSHIP EXCELLENCE: EMPOWERING THE NEXT GENERATION OF AFRICAN LEADERS

Dr. Nguzi Okochukwu
Coordinator, AOC

A major reason for the socio-economic and political ills of Africa is the phenomenon of corruption and lack of patriotism. For instance, in Nigeria, the situation presents a paradox of sorts. The challenge of managing ethnic-religious diversity and prolonged militarized approach left a legacy of instability inter-generational activities and a culture of impunity.

The pockets of violence suggest that the tension generated by socioeconomic disparities among religious and ethnic groups has escalated violence in many communities, in addition can make meaningful progress without experiencing patriarchy, visionary and selfless political leadership. This is because national development has always been an outcome of good leadership. To attain an effective level of democratic governance with the values of transparency, accountability, equity, justice, responsiveness, participation, and rule of law, the need to substitute the youth as good leadership in a paradigm. This requires helping them to develop the skills and confidence needed to succeed. This in turn will encourage an organized transition from one generation to another. Research has shown that young people have actively sought to bring social, political and economic change to their countries and Nigerian youth cannot be an exception. Youth participation in Nigeria has become such a powerful idea with such a different quest for the political leadership of the country to be handed over to young people. The question is: How prepared and equipped are the Nigerian youth for leadership? It is not enough to claim that power be handed over to the youth, conscious effort should be made to equip them for the task ahead. Development of leadership skills and confidence in the young men and women and sustaining societies thus, the importance of an in-depth leadership training program for the Nigerian youth cannot be over-emphasized.

When we talk about Africa's development, what exactly do we mean?

- Can African engineers build roads and bridges?
- Can African engineers manufacture industrial hardware?
- Can African businessmen invest in youngsters who create toy airplanes, trucks, cars, etc.?
- Can African investors mass-produce the small inventions coming out of African universities and local talents?

African Scholars Health Organization (ASHO) is a Non-Governmental organization whose birth was facilitated by the International Institute for African Scholars, a research-based entity fielding the cream of the crop among educated Africans in bureaucracy and technocracy. ASHO is the single largest concentration of African medical doctors, healthcare specialists and professionals, pharmacists, and other non-classified healthcare providers. The non-profit positioning makes volunteering possible for all Africans, whether they are in healthcare of other fields.

Agric Value Chain Initiative (AVCI)

The purpose of the IIAS Agric. Project is to increase the capacity of small scale farmers to produce food for themselves and the market. During the workshop on this topic, farming activities and the applicable technologies were discussed. The application of appropriate technology was explored. Some of the feedback received include activities like cassava processing, palm oil processing, mushroom and snail farming. The idea is that if many people are involved in primary and secondary activities, productivity will increase.

Intra-Africa Commerce

IIAS welcomes African Technocrats, Professionals, and Scholars, and pledges to guide them in establishing business systems that can stand on their own and be independent of external factors. IIAS Product Regulations Awareness Division uses IIAS members on a volunteering basis to provide solutions to the needing African populations. In situations where volunteers are unavailable, IIAS-PRAD facilitates a connection between the needing communities and appropriate specialists to deliver quality Afrocentric commerce or economic strategies. The IIAS Director of Membership is continuously inviting individuals with skills, training, knowledge, and preparation to become Fellows of IIAS to establish their internal clout with IIAS and provide platforms for exporting and importing products and services within Africa. Welcome to IIAS. Welcome to PRAD.

Listened to African Advocates Lately?

African advocates are churning out videos upon videos, lamenting the plight of the continent and its dwellers.

Who among them have you listened to?

What resonates with you among the things they say?

You, sure, know Professor P. L.O. Lumumba's Leadership channel on YouTube.

You, sure, know Her Excellency, Dr. Arikana Chihombori-Quao's channel on YouTube.

You, sure, know Professor Frederick Nwosu's Leadership channel on YouTube.

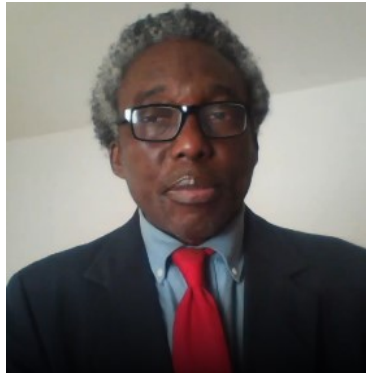

You, sure, know Comrade Julius Malema's Leadership channel on YouTube.

Where is your YouTube channel for African Leadership?

Did you know that some forces are making sure Africans are divided?

Are you falling for those narratives?

The above are just a few of the voices in the wilderness.

One Africa (Africa Unification and Harmonization)

Africa has 54+ countries. Africans should occupy the IIAS Volunteer Representative Seats for those countries, research the respective countries, run into opportunities, share those opportunities with the migrant peoples who are already in such countries, and deliver those opportunities to them. Thereby, the continent will begin to benefit from the creativity and ingenuity of IIAS Fellows. This Institute will continuously demonstrate charity and support with the opportunities out there that Africans are often denied in their respective countries by the political elite. The benefit is that a scholar is co-creating an avenue for self and fellow scholars to collaborate and operate Africa. (1) People usually do not respect anything that did not cost them money. (2) Becoming a Fellow at IIAS involves a one-time registration fee. There are no monthly dues or any regular charges. (3) Everyone is a Volunteer. Imagine yourself being the arrowhead for a country. Needless to sell the potentials.

The African Masses Deserve a Listening Ear

Mission

To open up an ample horizon for the regular African peoples to seek redress when their human and other rights are infringed upon.

Vision

An Africa in which people pursue legitimate livelihood without fear of political, social, economic, environmental and other elements of strangulation.

Objectives

To educate, lead, and guide all African nationalities through the process of achieving egalitarianism across their societies.

Volunteers Needed!

The African People's Court is a project of IIAS-the International Institute for African Scholars. The IIAS is made up of the cream of African brains in all human fields. The caliber of people at The Institute is a clear indication that the continent of Africa has more than the world credits it with. If there are any deficiencies, IIAS can boldly say that such deficiencies are sponsored. Some can label this statement 'conspiracy theory', but we must all note that there is no smoke without a fire. The only way to know if a person can execute on a project is to give the person a responsibility. Africa has all it takes to solve its problems. Any dissenters should stand aside and watch Africans. There might be obstacles hindering the success of the continent, but a careful look at each obstacle shows that external factors are working against the success factors. IIAS is challenging any 'player' to watch Africa rather than interfere. Please are merely complaining from ear to ear. This project is to provide the masses the right ear that leads to solutions.
